

How I Get Unlimited Tickets & Gems For Free In Episode

Posted : Online Users : 6877

Click this button below the episode apk contains the largest community of readers in the world with a wide range of texts in its entirety join and participate in one of the largest community discussions episode mode apk you can not only read your favorite stories but also create new ones in the game create and publish interactive stories on the episodic platform and reach millions of readers worldwide with your ideas righteousness alone as rachel might put it isn't necessarily going to put dinner something other than steamed chicken and vegetables for rashi's sake on the table a doctor's salary even in a rarefied specialty like hepatology at a prestigious manhattan hospital won't cut it it's not going to pay the tuition at the elite private schools she intends their future children to attend so that they befriend other children born into privilege and pursue higher education at elite institutions from which they can graduate into elite professions not medicine medicine entails working too hard and visible effort is for strivers not for the elite she wants them to be able to move through the world with as many barriers as possible preemptively removed by the generational wealth she hopes she and toby are building rachel has some understanding of what it feels like to hustle and it's been powerful fuel for her ambition but she also feels what a burden it is like many parents like toby himself she wants her kids lives to be better than hers has been and the factors she's identified as life improving are money geography and connections the latter two flow from the first so she gets cracking and she stays there this is where you have to be careful there are some legitimate places where you can get free passes by clicking links and opening them in episode however not every link that claims to give you items actually does some youtubers have special links provided by episode where you can acquire more free passes as well so if you want even more passes try to be on the lookout for these channels who provide special links for example just now i received 5 free passes from jenn creates link on one of her new videos the link is in her description for anyone who wants to get it also make sure you open it from mobile not computer in the early version of episode passes were available separately on individual stories while waiting for more passes for campus crush you could play through real hollywood if you had passes on it in the recent updates all passes are shared through stories and you can only play one at a time before waiting unless purchasing them in game with real money jumping forward in time toby and rachel have welcomed their second child solly to their family toby missed out on all of his social work engagements to be home with the baby while rachel pursued her ambitions they were like passing ships with rachel leaving to go work when toby got home while mona remained their nanny but toby had no regrets feeling lucky to get to spend so much time with their kids and once again worrying that rachel would regret not being more present during these precious days toby noticed how rachel would drop everything for work abandoning him while registering hannah for kindergarten to answer a call from a client when rachel wants to enroll hannah in an ambitious school program that seems intense for a young child rachel argues about how much she could've accomplished with her life if she had this early opportunity to get ahead toby had always hoped to send his kids to public school but he backs down and lets rachel enroll the kids in private school

the episode apk contains the largest community of readers in the world with a wide range of texts in its entirety join and participate in one of the largest community discussions episode mode apk you can not only read your favorite stories but also create new ones in the game create and publish interactive stories on the episodic platform and reach millions of readers worldwide with your ideas